ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

Professor, Syracuse University College of Law, The Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, and Director, Syracuse University Institute for Security Policy and Law, 2018-Present. Direct a multidisciplinary center for the study of national security law and policy, including emerging technologies, armed conflict, counterterrorism, and intelligence practice. Graduate and undergraduate courses include National Security Law, Emerging Technologies and Global Security, Central Challenges in National Security Law & Policy, Intelligence Law, National Security Negotiations, Space Law and Policy, and National Security Ethics. In response to Russia's full-scale invasion of Ukraine, the Institute created a network of scholars, universities, and civil society organizations in the frontline states to advance a law-based vision of national security responding to Russian aggression and disinformation and providing for European, NATO, and U.S. security. It now includes partners in Norway, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Slovakia, Ukraine, Romania, Moldova, and Georgia. Recipient of a $500,000 grant to study Artificial Intelligence and national security law and ethics. In addition, the Institute spearheaded the University's 2019 designation as an Intelligence Community Center of Academic Excellence and leads the implementation of a $1.2 million grant to increase diversity in the intelligence community workforce.

Distinguished Fellow, Center for Security and Emerging Technology, Walsh School of Foreign Service, Georgetown University, 2019-2022.

Advisor and contributor to the work of leading Center studying the security impacts of emerging technologies and delivering nonpartisan analysis to the policy community.

Robert E. Wilhelm Fellow, Center for International Studies, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 2017-2018.

An annual fellowship awarded to an individual who has held senior positions in public life. "The fellowship seeks to bridge the worlds of the scholar and the policymaker by offering each a place to exchange perspectives and by encouraging academics to work on policy-relevant problems."

Wilhelm Fellows have included Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe (Sri Lanka); David Miliband (U.K. Foreign Secretary); and Admiral William Fallon (U.S. Central Command). Conducted research for The Centaur's Dilemma: National Security Law for the Coming AI Revolution (Brookings: 2021) and led an ad hoc seminar for military fellows.

Visiting Professor, Georgetown University Law Center, 2015-2017.

Responsible for six courses per year, including three national security seminars incorporating tabletop exercises, a legal ethics seminar exploring legal ethics through the positive example of role models, Federal Courts, and a course on leadership.

Adjunct Positions while serving as a Judge:

Distinguished Fellow, Center for National Security Law, University of Virginia Law School, 1995-2020.

National Security Law Institute instructor for over twenty years.

Faculty, International Institute of Humanitarian Law, San Remo, Italy, 2013–2016.

Adjunct Professor, Georgetown Law School, Washington, D.C., 2004–2015 (6 credits per year).

Adjunct Professor, University of Iowa College of Law, Iowa City, IA, 2004–2015 (1 credit per year). Offered tenure-track position in 2000, which I declined in favor of becoming a judge.

Adjunct Professor, Washington University School of Law, St. Louis, MO, 2012–2015 (1 credit per year).

Adjunct Professor, University of Pittsburgh School of Law, Pittsburgh, PA, 2009–2012 (1 credit per year).

Visiting Lecturer, Yale Law School, New Haven, Connecticut, 2001–2004 (2 Credits per year).

GOVERNMENT EXPERIENCE

Judge, Data Protection Review Court (DPRC), 2023–Present.

The DPRC is an independent court established in 2023 within the Department of Justice. It serves as the second level of the redress process established by the President through Executive Order 14086, to strengthen safeguards for U.S. signals intelligence activities. The DPRC independently reviews determinations made by the Civil Liberties Protection Officer of the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) in response to qualifying complaints alleging violations of U.S. law in the conduct of U.S. signals intelligence activities. Judges on the court hold TS/SCI clearances and are Special Government Employees serving on a part-time and as needed basis.

Biden Presidential Transition National Security/Foreign Policy Team, August 2020–January 20, 2021 (Non-Public Volunteer).

Legal advisor to the “Covid Team,” providing advice on, among other topics, constitutional and statutory authorities to respond to the coronavirus pandemic, supply chain authorities, and the organization of the executive branch; reviewed and edited action plans; drafted numerous presidential executive actions issued during the first week of the Biden administration.

Consultant, Intelligence Advanced Research Projects Activity, 2017–2018.

Reported to the Director of IARPA on U.S. and international law, norms, and codes of conduct relating to emerging science and technology areas, with a focus on artificial intelligence, culminating in a 250-page report. (This work was subcontracted through Booz Allen Hamilton.)

Chief Judge (2011–2015), Associate Judge (2000–2011), Senior Judge (2015–Present), United States Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces.

Served as the principal administrative officer and presiding judge of the Article I federal court of appeals responsible for reviewing cases under the Uniform Code of Military Justice. Decisions of the Court are appealable to the U.S. Supreme Court. Author of almost 300 opinions addressing criminal law, criminal procedure, the First, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Amendments, rules of evidence, and jurisdiction. Responsible for a docket of approximately 1,000 petitions per year, a $14 million budget, a staff of sixty, and the court’s security. Represented the Court before domestic and international audiences.

Special Assistant to the President and Legal Adviser to the National Security Council (1997-2000), Deputy Legal Adviser (1994-1997).

As a career civil servant, advised the President, Vice President, the National Security Council (NSC), and the NSC staff on U.S. and international law related to, among other topics, intelligence, counterterrorism, foreign assistance, non-proliferation, and military operations. Led and coordinated the interagency legal process across executive departments on national security law issues. Served as “agency general counsel,” addressing personnel, fiscal, legislative, investigatory, and litigation matters. Served as Designated Agency Ethics Official for the National Security Council.

Counsel to the President’s Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board and Intelligence Oversight Board, 1993-1994.

Served as legal counsel to board comprised of former senior defense and intelligence officials as well as private citizens charged with providing the President input and advice on intelligence matters. Initiated and crafted the reorganization of the President’s Intelligence Oversight Board, a subcommittee of the larger Board responsible for oversight. Contributing author of a report to the President on intelligence relating to U.S. policy and military operations in Somalia between 1992 and 1993.

Attorney-Adviser, Office of the Legal Adviser, United States Department of State, 1990-1993.

Served as line attorney for the Intelligence & Research, Counterterrorism, and Diplomatic Security Bureaus, while also responsible for U.S. extradition and mutual legal assistance practice with designated countries in the Middle East, Africa, and Europe. In addition, served as the Department’s liaison to the Iran/Contra Independent Counsel and Iran/Contra Interagency Classification Review Group. Toward this end, recruited, organized, and led a team of retired Foreign Service Officers recognized with the State Department’s Superior Honor Award. During second rotation, served as legal adviser to U.S. delegations to the Convention on Long-Range Transboundary Air Pollution, the Convention to Combat Desertification, and to the International Maritime Organization.

Legislative Aide and Acting Chief of Staff to Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan, 1985-1987.

Performed duties as assigned by Senator Moynihan including legislative review and drafting in the defense, intelligence, and law enforcement areas; domestic and foreign travel with the Senator; and service as Chief of Staff. Organized and led 57 professional and administrative staff, including design and implementation of the office’s first formal staff and salary structure within a performance management framework.

Infantry Officer, United States Marine Corps (1982-1985); Marine Corps Reserve (1979-2000).

Platoon leader, weapons platoon leader, company executive officer, and aide-de-camp to the Commanding General of Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune. Authored revised Marine Corps Counterinsurgency Field Manual as a reserve officer. Twice awarded the Navy Achievement Medal. Holder of the Marine Corps Combat Endurance Course Record.

BOARDS

Board of Trustees, Bishop Ludden Junior Senior High School (7-12th grade), Syracuse, New York, Member, 2021-Present.

Chair of the Governance Committee with responsibility over establishing board best practices, including ethics, bylaws, and member selection.
